

By The Numbers: How Medicaid Strengthens Vermont

Medicaid is not only a lifeline for millions of Vermonters, it strengthens our communities in countless ways. These are reasons why the program is overwhelmingly popular: 74 percent of Americans support Medicaid.

VERMONTERS DEPEND ON MEDICAID

- 162,593 Vermonters Are Covered Through Medicaid. 162,593 Vermonters have medical coverage through Medicaid most of them children, seniors, and people with disabilities.
- In Vermont, Adults Up To 138 Percent Of The Federal Poverty Line May Enroll In Medicaid. After expanding Medicaid, Vermont residents earning up to 138 percent of the federal poverty line are now eligible to enroll in Medicaid.
- 66,400 Vermonters Have Gained Coverage Through Medicaid Expansion. Thanks to Medicaid expansion, 66,400 Vermont residents are enrolled in the program.

MEDICAID IS A LIFELINE FOR CHILDREN, SENIORS, AND PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

39 Percent of Vermont's Children Rely on Medicaid. 39 percent of Vermont children rely on Medicaid for coverage. Medicaid pays almost $4 billion annually in school-based health services. Schools depend on these funds connect students with vital health resources — 68 percent of school superintendents said that they used these funds to keep nurses, counselors, and speech therapists on staff.

Medicaid Supports 64 Percent Of Vermonters In Nursing Homes. 64 percent of Vermonters living in nursing homes have coverage through Medicaid.

Medicaid Covers 26 Percent of Vermont's Seniors and People with Disabilities. In Vermont, 26 percent of seniors and people with disabilities have health coverage through Medicaid, including for nursing home care. Nationally, approximately one-in-four-people on Medicaid are seniors (9 percent) or people with disabilities (15 percent). However, their care represents about two-thirds of all Medicaid spending. In other words, funding cuts to Medicaid will disproportionately affect the most vulnerable.

MEDICAID HELPS VERMONTERS ACCESS TREATMENT FOR OPIOID ADDICTION

Medicaid Covers One In Four Americans With An Opioid Use Disorder. Medicaid pays for 68 percent of Vermont's buprenorphine expenditure, a medication used to treat opioid addiction.

REPUBLICANS' WAR ON THE ACA AND MEDICAID JEOPARDIZES COVERAGE FOR 160,000 VERMONTERS

66,400 Vermonters Enrolled Through Medicaid Expansion Now At Risk. The Graham-Cassidy bill would eliminate Medicaid expansion, which has helped 66,400 Vermonters receive quality, affordable coverage, and put part of its funding into inadequate block grants. The bill would further punish states that expanded Medicaid by redistributing funds to states that did not expand Medicaid.

162,593 Vermonters With Traditional Medicaid Coverage, Including Seniors, People With Disabilities, And Children, Are At Risk. The Graham-Cassidy bill that President Trump revived in his FY19 budget proposal would turn traditional Medicaid into a per capita cap, meaning the 162,593 Vermonters who are enrolled on Medicaid would have their care jeopardized. Medicaid disproportionately helps children, seniors in nursing home care and people with disabilities. A study by Avalere found that Graham-Cassidy would cut funding for people with disabilities by 15 percent and 31 percent for children by 2036.

63,771 Vermont Children's Care Is At Risk. 63,771 Vermont kids are currently enrolled in Medicaid and CHIP, and their care could be at risk because of funding cuts in Graham-Cassidy.
